W.J. BRADLEY COMPANY INVESTMENT BANKING/CAPITAL MARKETS

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
W.J. Bradley Company Investment Banking/Capital Markets

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of W.J. Bradley Company Investment Banking/Capital Markets as of December 31, 2006, and the related statements of income, changes in ownership equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of W.J. Bradley Company Investment Banking/Capital Markets at December 31, 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying information contained in the computations of net capital, net capital requirement and aggregate indebtedness, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

1. Summary of significant accounting policies and business of the Company:

Organization and business:

W.J. Bradley Company Investment Banking/Capital Markets (the "Company"), a Colorado corporation, is a registered broker dealer formed on July 9, 2001. The Company received its approval as a broker dealer in February 2002. The Company is wholly-owned by W.J. Bradley Company (the "Parent").

The Company is a registered broker dealer subject to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers. The Company was formed to provide merger and acquisition advisory services in addition to private placement of debt and equity and private Direct Participation Programs to clients primarily in the residential mortgage banking industry. The Company does not hold customer funds or securities.

The Company's operations are headquartered in Denver, Colorado.

Investment banking and advisory services:

The Company earned all of its revenue from investment banking and advisory services which includes private placement, merger-and-acquisition, and valuation assistance provided under contractual arrangements that generally require clients to pay a non-refundable deposit, service fees or an agreed-upon fee upon the closing of a transaction. The Company recognizes non-refundable deposits as revenue when services are delivered or performed over the term of the arrangement (generally less than 6 months), recognizes service fees as revenue when the related services are provided, and recognizes transaction fees as revenue when the underlying transaction is complete.

During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company received marketable equity securities in exchange for services. Total service fee revenue recorded by the Company was based on the fair market value of the securities which was determined to be $258,840. This amount was based on the proceeds the Company received upon the immediate sale of these equity instruments when they were received.

Use of accounting estimates in the preparation of financial statements:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentrations:

During the year ended December 31, 2006, one third-party client accounted for approximately 60% of the Company's total investment banking and advisory service revenue. In addition, approximately 38% of the Company's total investment banking and advisory service revenue was received from a related entity (Note 2).

1. Summary of significant accounting policies and business of the Company (continued):

Comprehensive income:

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income", requires disclosure of comprehensive income which includes certain items previously not reported in the statement of income. For the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company did not have any components of comprehensive income to report.

Advertising costs:

The Company expenses advertising costs when incurred. Advertising expense was approximately $16,800 for the year ended December 31, 2006.

Recently issued accounting pronouncements:

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. This statement defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 does not require any new fair value measurements, but provides guidance on how to measure fair value by providing a fair value hierarchy used to classify the source of the information. This statement is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. Management is currently assessing the impact that the adoption of SFAS No. 157 may have on its financial statements.

In May 2005, the FASB issued SFAS No. 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections, which changes the requirements for the accounting and reporting of a change in accounting principle and applies to all voluntary changes in accounting principles. It also applies to changes required by an accounting pronouncement in the unusual instance that the pronouncement does not include specific transition provisions. When a pronouncement includes specific transition provisions, those provisions should be followed. APB No. 20, Accounting Changes, required that most voluntary changes in accounting principle be recognized by including in net income of the period of the change the cumulative effect of changing to the new accounting principles. This statement requires retrospective application to prior period financial statements of changes in accounting principles, unless it is impracticable to determine either the period-specific effects of the cumulative effect of the change. The provisions of SFAS No. 154 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2005. The adoption of SFAS No. 154 did not have an impact on the Company's financial statements.

2. Related party transactions:

Under a management agreement, the Parent provides certain general and administrative services to the Company. These expenses are not charged to the Company and are not recorded in the Company's financial statements because the Company's Parent has agreed, in writing, to assume responsibility for these expenses.

The Company also provides consulting services to an entity whose owner is the sole owner of the Company's Parent. During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company received $120,000 for consulting services and $42,500 in transaction fees for investment banking and advisory services provided to this entity.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006

3. Income taxes:

As a result of its Parent's S Corporation election, the Company is a Subchapter S Subsidiary under the Internal Revenue Code. As a Subchapter S Subsidiary, the Company is not subject to income tax. Instead, the stockholder of the Parent is taxed individually on the Company's taxable income. Therefore, no provision or liability for income taxes has been included in these financial statements.

Prior to this election, the Company had deferred tax assets of approximately $4,500 consisting of $3,600 related to net operating losses and $900 related to start-up costs. The Company provided a 100% valuation allowance for its deferred tax assets. As such, there was no impact on the financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, as a result of the change in corporate tax status.

4. Net capital requirement:

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, not exceed 15 to 1. For the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company had net capital of $27,618, which was $22,618 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000 and the Company's net capital ratio was 6.5 to 1.

There are no reconciling items between the Company's computation (included in Part IIA of Form X-17A-5 as of December 31, 2006) of net capital and the computation based on the audited financial statements.

5. Fair value of financial instruments:

SFAS No. 107, Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, requires the Company to disclose estimated fair values for its financial instruments, for which it is practicable to estimate fair value. Management believes that the carrying amounts of the Company's financial instruments approximate their fair value because of the short-term maturities of these instruments.

To the Board of Directors of
W.J. Bradley Company Investment Banking/Capital Markets

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of W.J. Bradley Company Investment Banking/Capital Markets, as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. However, we identified the following deficiency in internal control that we consider to be a material weakness as defined above. This condition was considered in determining the nature, timing and extent of the procedures to be performed in our audit of the financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2006, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 23, 2007.

Due to the nature and size of the Company's operations, there is no effective segregation of duties between operating and recording functions. Therefore, normal internal controls and procedures for recording, reviewing and reporting transactions are not present in the Company. The president of the Company is aware of the weakness in internal control; however, due to the size of the Company, the president does not believe it is practical to have additional accounting or bookkeeping personnel. The president has informed us that he reviews all transactions and books of original entry.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were inadequate, as noted above, at December 31, 2006, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Company's Board of Directors, management, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
